

JUST ARRIVED

Just in time for spring, the Mumbai-based boutique Clove offers a floral ode with PIXEL, a new range in collaboration with fashion designers Saaksha and Kinni and architect Rooshad Shroff. While Saaksha and Kinni depict pixelated florals on textiles, Shroff has created a set of plates featuring geometric prints inspired by floral motifs. "PIXEL is a collaboration that marries my love for fashion and design while focusing on an Indian aesthetic with a modern appeal," says Samyukta Nair, founder of Clove. "The showcase juxtaposes Rooshad's plates that have a masculine appeal with monochrome geometry, interspaced with bursts of colour, with Saaksha & Kinni's softness seen in their contemporary silhouettes in bright and luxe fabrics." —SD
